

Privacy Policy

Your personal data – what is it?

Personal data relates to a living individual who can be identified from that data. Identification can be by the information alone or in conjunction with any other information in the data controller's possession or likely to come into such possession. The processing of personal data is governed by the General Data Protection Regulation (the "GDPR").

Who are we?

The John Holford Charity Board of Trustees is the data controller (contact details below). This means it decides how your personal data is processed and for what purposes.

How do we process your personal data?

The John Holford Charity Board of Trustees complies with its obligations under the "GDPR" by keeping personal data up to date; by storing and destroying it securely; by not collecting or retaining excessive amounts of data; by protecting personal data from loss, misuse, unauthorised access and disclosure and by ensuring that appropriate technical measures are in place to protect personal data.

We use your personal data for the following purposes: –

- To decide on applications for assistance
- To process applications and purchase goods where necessary.
- To arrange deliveries of goods and services.

What is the legal basis for processing your personal data?

- Processing is necessary for carrying out obligations under employment, social security or social protection law, or other contractual matters.
- The processing is in accordance with the legitimate interest in supporting the service provided for the benefit of the public.
- The processing applies to a contract where you have approached us to provide a service.
- The processing is necessary to protect the individuals "vital interests";

- Processing is carried out by a not-for-profit body with a political, philosophical, religious or trade union aim provided: –
 - the processing relates only to Trustees or applicants; and
 - there is no disclosure to a third party without consent.

Sharing your personal data

Your personal data will be treated as strictly confidential and will only be shared with Trustees or individuals and companies supplying goods and services in connection with the application. We will only share your data with third parties, other than suppliers with your consent or where it is necessary for the performance of a contract or service or to comply with our legal responsibilities.

We may share your data with the following third parties

- HMRC – for carrying out our statutory obligations under employment and social security law.

How long do we keep your personal data?

We retain data while it is still current

Your rights and your personal data

Unless subject to an exemption under the GDPR, you have the following rights with respect to your personal data: –

- The right to request a copy of your personal data which the John Holford Charity holds about you;
- The right to request that the John Holford Charity corrects any personal data if it is found to be inaccurate or out of date;
- The right to request your personal data is erased where it is no longer necessary for the John Holford Charity to retain such data;
- The right to withdraw your consent to the processing at any time
- The right to request that the data controller provide the data subject with his/her personal data and where possible, to transmit that data directly to another data controller, (known as the right to data portability), (where applicable) [Only applies where the processing is based on consent or is necessary for the performance of a contract with the data subject and in either case the data controller processes the data by automated means].
- The right, where there is a dispute in relation to the accuracy or processing of your personal data, to request a restriction is placed on further processing;
- The right to object to the processing of personal data, (where applicable) [Only applies where processing is based on legitimate interests (or the performance of a task in the public interest/exercise of official authority); direct marketing and processing for the purposes of scientific/historical research and statistics]

- The right to lodge a complaint with the Information Commissioners Office.

Further processing

If we wish to use your personal data for a new purpose, not covered by this Data Protection Notice, then we will provide you with a new notice explaining this new use prior to commencing the processing and setting out the relevant purposes and processing conditions. Where and whenever necessary, we will seek your prior consent to the new processing.

Contact Details

To exercise all relevant rights, queries of complaints please in the first instance contact the Clerk to the Trustees on jholfordcharity@gmail.com.

You can contact the Information Commissioners Office on 0303 123 1113 or via email <https://ico.org.uk/global/contact-us/email/> or at the Information Commissioner's Office, Wycliffe House, Water Lane, Wilmslow, Cheshire. SK9 5AF.